WASHINGTON NEEDS
A COMMON SENSE
TRANSPLANT,

START

Do We Want a Doctor or a Lifetime Politician Representing Us in Congress?

Washington needs a common sense transplant, and it's not going to get one from lifetime politicians like Congressman Dan Lungren. Dr. Ami Bera has lived and worked in our community all his life and knows what it means to have real people's lives in his hands.

DR. BERA: Protecting Our Health and Safety

As a doctor, Ami Bera supports:¹

- The Clean Water Restoration Act, to ensure clean and safe drinking water for every American
- Strong environmental laws that will ensure a full cleanup of the Sacramento River Delta

CONGRESSMAN DAN LUNGREN: A Lifetime Politician Who's Part of The Problem

Dan Lungren has been a politician since 1979, bouncing from Washington to California state government and back. He toes the party line instead of standing up for us:²

- Siding with polluters over people by opposing the Clean Water Act and allowing polluters to keep spewing mercury into our water and air

Check the facts:

¹ LCV Action Fund press release, 1/27/12; Sacramento River Watershed Program, Roadmap to Watershed Management

² HR 2018, House Vote 573, 7/13/11; HR 2681, House Vote 764, 10/6/11; HR 2250, House Vote 791, 10/13/11
